

ABSTRACT

A method for managing orders placed at an electronic commerce site is described. In one embodiment, a purchase order is received from the electronic format. The purchase order is then converted to a buyer-native-format and electronically provided to the buyer's backend accounting system.

109515 v1/BD
2CS301' DOC